Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 23 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Very wet and very windy.

Today:
An overcast day with periods of rain, often heavy, particularly across southern regions. Southerly winds reaching gale force, perhaps severe gale, particularly across eastern coasts. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain, heavy at times during the evening, particularly in east. Outbreaks turning patchy overnight and clearing the west towards dawn, bringing the chance of brighter spells to far west. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Wednesday:
Starting cloudy in east with some patchy rain. Mainly dry and bright conditions in west spreading to all from mid-day. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Generally settled with high pressure extending from south, bringing a lot of dry, occasionally bright weather, westerly winds and seasonally mild temperatures.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.